

Account Executive

- Award winning direct marketing and fundraising agency
- Sydney based
- High profile not-for-profit clients

We are an award winning data-led fundraising and communications agency dedicated to the not-for-profit sector. Continuous success in raising money for our clients means we need more brilliant people to join our Sydney team.

You will have a unique opportunity to assist Account teams to deliver outstanding service to our high-profile charity clients as well as being involved in all aspects of direct marketing campaigns from concept through to delivery. Working with an equal opportunity employer who values and invests in their staff, there will be plenty of opportunities for training and advancement.

You will ideally have a tertiary qualification in marketing and/or an equivalent level of expertise from either charity, PR, advertising or media agency experience. A good understanding of marketing principles; proven project management and planning skills; highly developed interpersonal skills and relationship building will certainly get you ahead.

Join Pareto Fundraising and you'll be part of a fun, friendly and supportive team with an emphasis on opportunities for innovation and career development. What are you waiting for?
